

Re: COVID-19 Impact Statement

Dear Valued Customers,

We are open and shipping! We are also welcoming any warranty repairs you may have.

Anchor Audio continues to monitor COVID-19 under the guidance of our Crisis Management team, and we have responded as a company with compassion for those who may be affected as well as an abundance of caution to limit the spread of the virus. We are also taking measures to ensure business continuity remains unimpacted during this time.

While Anchor Audio has not experienced any significant business impacts, interruption, or degradation to customer services due to COVID-19, our team has taken steps to mitigate potential disruptions to our operations.

At this time, none of our customer service or other functions are affected, and we do not anticipate any impact to our operation due to supplier disruption. Should our status change, we will provide an update immediately to uphold our commitment to trust and transparency.

Please contact Anchor Audio directly with any questions you may have, sales@anchoraudio.com or (800) 262-4671, we look forward to hearing from you.

Best Regards,

Alex Jacobs | CEO
